UNFINISHED BUSINESS FOR THE NEW COMMISSION

The new European Commission will inherit a large volume of unfinished business on financial services.

The European Parliament and the Council have agreed or adopted over 50 'Level 1' acts on financial services and related cross-cutting issues during the term of the 2019-24 Commission – but the new Commission taking office in October will still inherit a significant workload.

Most of the legislation adopted or agreed during the current Commission's term has yet to be fully implemented:

- Over 30 Level 1 acts remain outstanding with dates for application stretching out to 2029 (see Annex 1).
- Many of these need technical standards or other delegated and implementing acts or guidelines to make them fully operational.
- The banking package alone includes more than 50 mandates for 'Level 2' acts as well as over 30 mandates for EBA guidelines.

Many of the current Commission's legislative proposals have yet to be agreed by the Parliament and the Council:

- Over 20 proposals may be carried over to be dealt with in the next institutional cycle (see Annex 2).
- In some cases, the co-legislators have decided their respective positions and are ready to enter trilogue discussions to agree a final text, but in other cases they have yet to decide on their approach.
- The new Commission may decide to withdraw proposals which no longer have a realistic prospect of success.
- However, recent amendments adopted by the Parliament's ECON committee may indicate a break in the nine-year stalemate on the Commission's proposal for a European deposit insurance scheme (which might otherwise have been a candidate for withdrawal).

There is a significant backlog of reviews and consultations which may lead to new legislative proposals (see Annex 3).

In addition, the recently adopted legislation includes additional mandates for reviews during the term of the new Commission.

This unfinished business will form the backdrop for the new Commission's own legislative agenda, including any new proposals to advance capital markets union.

NOTES

The table shows the application dates falling on or after 1 July 2024 for Level 1 acts on financial services and related cross-cutting issues adopted or agreed during the term of the 2019-2024 Commission.

'RTS' indicates that the act has previously entered into application but that some provisions will take effect on the entry into force of regulatory technical standards under the act. However, the table does not indicate other cases where additional application dates are linked to the entry into force of binding technical standards or other Level 2 acts or the application of all transitional arrangements.

'NYP' indicates that the act has been agreed by the European Parliament and the Council and is awaiting final adoption and publication in the Official Journal. The table assumes that these acts will enter into force in Q3 2024.

*Indicates that there were also prior application dates for the act.

† The Commission has announced the delay of the application of the provisions implementing the fundamental review of the trading book under CRR3 to 1 January 2026 but has not yet adopted the necessary delegated act.

‡ Member States are required to bring into force their national measures implementing the directive by the specified dates (and thus may implement the directive before those dates).

§ The Regulation requires ESMA to establish and operate the EU single access point by the specified date.

|| Reflects changes to Directive 2013/24 on accounting made by Directive 2024/1306.
